

China and WTO Review

Stuart S. Malawer, American Editor <http://cwr.yill.org>; <https://cwto.net/index.php/CWR/issue/archive>

China and WTO Review (CWR) is an internationally referred scholarly journal(ESCI/SCOPUS) which is semi-annually published by YIJUN Institute of International Law (Korea)

“U.S. Law & U.S. – China Trade Relations.”

Dr. Stuart Malawer, JD, Ph.D., is a member of the editorial board of the China and WTO Review. He writes a semi-annual commentary on the legal and political aspects of U.S. – China Trade Relations. He is the Distinguished Service Professor of Law and International Trade Emeritus at George Mason University in Virginia, US.

Commentaries

“Has the US Become a National Security and Protectionist Trading State?” (China and WTO Review 2024) (now published Journal of East Asia and International Law) (2024).

“US – China Trade Relations: Tectonic Changes & Political Risk in the Global System – National Security, Industrial Policy & Protectionism.” (China and WTO Review 2023).

“The US Trade Relations with China: Worrysome Developments in US Law.” (China and WTO Review 2023).

“Biden's Trade Policies -- Year One: Same as Trump's or More Aggressive?” (China and WTO Review 2022).

“Biden’s Trade Policies – Recalibrated, More Focused, and a Bit Concerning.” (China and WTO Review 2021).

“Biden, Nat’l Security & Global Trade: Less Subterfuge & More Strategy.” (China and WTO Review 2021).

“Trump, Recent Court Cases and the 2020 Presidential Election.” (China and WTO Review 2020).

“Trump, Litigation and Threats: From Queens to the World Stage.” (China and WTO Review 2020).

“Trump, Trade and National Security.” (China and WTO Review 2019).

“Trump, Trade and Federal Courts – Section 232.” (China and WTO Review 2019).

“Trump's Tariff Wars and National Security.” (China and WTO Review 2018).

“Trump's One-Year Trade Policies.” (China and WTO Review 2018).

“Trump's China Trade Policies.” (China and WTO Review 2017).